OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Market Review. In July 2025, euro-denominated bond markets saw a modest rise in yields, with the 10-year German bund climbing to 2.69% amid resilient economic data and persistent global inflation pressures. The European Central Bank held its deposit rate steady at 2.00%, following a June cut, and maintained a cautious, data-driven stance as inflation eased and wage growth moderated. Economic projections remained unchanged, with inflation expected to average 2.0% and GDP growth at 0.9% for the year. Indicators such as PMI and consumer confidence showed signs of gradual recovery, particularly in Germany's manufacturing sector, supporting a cautiously optimistic outlook for the eurozone.

Fund Performance. The Fund returned 0.22% for the month, outperforming its benchmark by 7 basis points. Year-to-date, return amounted to 1.33%, outperforming its benchmark by 12 basis points.

Fund Strategy. The fund will maintain its current duration. Investors in the bond fund must be prepared to withstand short term volatility as higher investment value is normally achieved over the medium to long term.
